1920. 22nd May. Mr. & Mrs. H. H. Bell, Postmaster, New Haven, Conn., and their son, H. H. Bell, Jr., came to the city to inspect the new building.

TO THE R E A D E R.

THough it be needless to recommend what to all intelligent persons will sufficiently commend it self; yet perhaps it may not be unacceptable to the Ingenious, to have some short account concerning This so much Celebrated, so often Desired, so long Expected Library, now exposed to Sale.

The GENTLEMAN that Collected it, was a Person infinitely Curious and Inquisitive after Books, and who suffered nothing considerable to escape him, that fell within the compass of his Learning; for he had not the vanity of desiring to be Master of more than he knew how to use. He lived to a very great Age, and spent a good part of it, almost entirely in the search of Books: Being as constantly known every day to walk his Rounds through the Shops, as he sat down to Meals: where his great skill and experience enabled him to make choice of what was not obvious to every Vulgar Eye. He lived in times, which ministered peculiar opportunities of meeting with Books, that are not every day brought into publick light; and few eminent Libraries were Bought, where he had not the Liberty to pick and choose. And while others were forming Arms, and New-modelling Kingdoms, his great Ambition was to become Master of a good Book. Hence arose at that vast number of his Books, so the choiceness and rarity of the greatest part of them, and that of all kinds, and in all sorts of Learning.

No more need be instanced in than that of HISTORY, wherein here are the most considerable Historians of all Ages and Nations, Ancient and Modern; and among them those especially of our Own and the Neighbour Nations, whereof I believe there is scarce any thing wanting that is Extant: And among the MANUSCRIPTS, several things that were never yet Printed; besides abundance of Pamphlets Publisht at and before the times of Reformation relating to Ecclesiastical affairs, whereof it is reasonable to believe, there are no other Copies now extant in the World, (with multitudes of others of latter times.) Together with HISTORY may go along the Collection of LIVES, Elogia virorum illustrium, the Writers de Scriptoribus, and of the Foundations of Monasteries, &c. perhaps the best and largest Collection of that kind that is in any private Library in this Nation. Indeed the whole is so considerable, that it is commonly known, that the most Learned men in these Parts, and those who have the best Libraries of their own, were wont frequently to have recourse to THIS, for Things not to be had elsewhere.

Nor was the Owner of them a meer idle Possessor of so great a Treasure: For as he generally Collated his Books upon the Buying of them (upon which account the Buyer may rest pretty secure of their being perfect) so he did not barely turn over the Leaves, but observed the Defects of Impressions, and the ill arts used by many, compared the differences of Editions, concerning which and the like Cases, he has entred memorable and very useful remarks upon very many of the Books under his own hand, OBSERVATIONS wherein certainly never man was more Diligent and Industrious.

Thus

To the Reader.

Thus much was thought fit to be Communicated to Publick notice, by a Gentleman who was intimately acquainted both with Mr. Smith and his Books.

THIS EXCELLENT LIBRARY will be exposed by AUCTION, and the Sale will begin on Monday the 15th day of May next, at the AUCTION-HOUSE Known by the Name of the SWAN in Great St. Bartholomews-Cloſe, and there continue day by day the five first days of every Week till all the Books be Sold.

The Conditions of the Sale are these:

- I. That He who bids most is the Buyer; and if any difference arise, which the Company cannot decide, then the Book or Books shall be forthwith exposed to Sale again.
- II. That all the Books in this Catalogue, not otherwise expressed, (for ought I know) are perfect; but if any of them appear to be otherwise before they be taken away, the Buyer shall have his choice of taking or leaving them.
- III. That the Money for the Book or Books so Bought, is to be paid by the Buyer within one Month after the Auction is ended, at the Place where they are Sold. Where, constant attendance shall be given for that Month day by day, from Eight a Clock to Eleven, and from Two till Five, for Receipt of the Money, and Delivery of the Books.
- IV. That the Buyer and Seller do mutually Bind their respective Executors and Administrators to the performance of these Conditions.
- V. That no Person be admitted a Buyer, who being a stranger to the Seller or Company, shall refuse to tell the place of his abode.
- VI. That no Person be admitted a Buyer that has refused or denied to Pay for any Books he has bought at any former Auction.

For Satisfaction of the Buyers, as to the Condition of the Books, they will be exposed to view at the Place above mentioned, every day for a Fotnight before the Sale begins.

March. 27. 1682.
